

The Broadband Over Powerline (BPL) will cause interference from 2 Megahertz to 80 Megahertz. Considering this large a spectrum of radio frequencies is it truly worth the ability to add yet another broadband internet offering? The loss of the radio services is not commensurate with the value of having one more broadband internet service. Other countries have arrived at the same conclusion.